The Life and Legacy of Annie Oakley
 by Charlotte Endorf—3 pm—
 Community Building

She was described as the “greatest woman rifle shot”. A star attraction of Buffalo Bill’s Wild West Show, Oakley thrilled audiences around the world with her daring shooting feats. A champion in a man’s sport, she changed ideas about the abilities of women in the 19th century, yet she opposed female suffrage. Endorf’s presentation dispels myth to reveal the real Annie Oakley.

Odell Market Update

citizens working toward and raising money for the purchase of the Odell Market. Sharon and I have tried for a number of months to sell the store to someone wanting to continue having a store in Odell. We have not been successful although a few have expressed interest. So, to keep the store running for their community, the SOS [save our store] group formed and are working towards the purchase of the store.

We bought the store over nine years ago for two reasons. Sharon was retiring from teaching and needed a new career, and we did not want to see the store close its doors. Many of you should remember that the then owners, Larry and Jo Genrich were on the verge of closing the store for good. So, nine and a half years later, the same situation exists.

You have probably seen the thermometer poster in the window of the store showing the progress of the fund raising effort by the SOS group. They are trying to raise $100,000. That is not what Sharon and I are asking for the store. The SOS group is raising that amount to include our asking price and extra money as a cushion for extra expenses that tend to arise in business.

Sharon and I believe it is vital to have stores and businesses continue to operate in Odell. That is also the belief of the SOS group. If businesses close, the town is no longer a viable place for people to want to live. I am not asking you to donate to the SOS group, but simply to think about what happens if we lose our downtown businesses. Perry and Sharon Gydesen/the Odell Market

We would like to clear up some misconceptions concerning the Odell Market. We have been asked this question among others about our desire to sell the store. There is currently a group of concerned

Potential Stockholders for The Odell Market

Move quickly, The Odell Market is going to continue with your assistance. Money to buy the store and continue its operation are being gathered. Since the store has not been purchased an LLC, limited liability company, is being formed and we hope you can become a member.

$78,250 has been raised so far, but we are short of needed funds. We hope to raise approximately 50,000 dollars in the next month.

The owners plan to quit Aug 31! HELP! We need your pledges now. Funds will be gathered around that date but we are currently collecting only pledges. HELP!

6 Diller-Odell Students Attend N Power Conference July 20-23. The Conference was in both the Great Plains Room and the Union at UNL East Campus. Shown in above photo from left: Mad Meyerle, Maddy Yocum, Madeline Swanson, Allison Engelman, Kellen Gegg & Esdon Weers. All of these students will be 7th graders. When asked about the conference, Allison Engelman said, “I liked that it was divided by grade, so you were only with people your age. I learned about good communication habits, and about the ripple effect, which is one person making a difference in another person’s life.” Thanks to OACE and Diller Foundation

Education Begins at Home Make sure your children are ready to go to school when the day arrives! If you have been lax on discipline and routine throughout the summer (as many of us are!), time to step it up! It is not fair to the teachers, to send your kids back to school without telling them the expectations that should be required of them and their behavior when they return. Send them to the school and teachers AT THEIR BEST! Do this, so you are setting them up for a successful year. If they start off on the wrong foot, it will be a long, hard year. Tell them to be respectful to the teachers, to listen and do what is asked and expected of them. To NOT argue and to cooperate within the classroom and with their classmates and teachers. This will help out EVERYONE in the long run. Your teachers have been planning and doing so much work to get ready for this year, so it is your job, as a parent, to send them your children AT THEIR VERY BEST!

NOTE FROM THE SUPERINTENDANT: I look forward to the coming of fall and the beginning of the 2016-17 school year. Fall is a great time: kids back in a steady routine, cooler temps, harvest time and fall sports.

We look forward to a great year at school and our staff will be eager to begin 2016-17. We welcome back all staff and welcome a new preschool teacher, Ms. Delaney Rees. Please make her feel welcome at home at D-O.

We continue to work on facility upgrades to insure we can move into the future and maintain and improve the buildings we have. This summer carpet updates were completed, a new drive at the HS was poured and we opened a fitness center at the high school. I believe these continued improvements are necessary for us to move into the future and continue to better ourselves as a school district. To be relevant in the future small communities need to continually look to improve and be attractive places to live.

We are very proud of our students' achievements at school. The success is to be shared by all stakeholders. I firmly believe what makes our system so strong is the relationship between teachers, students, parents, administration, Board and community. There will always be bumps in the road. When they are, such issues need to be handled appropriately.

Thanks to everyone for the role they fulfill for our school. As on any good team, all roles are not the same, but all are important. Everyone that works at school serves as part of a quality education for our students. We are fortunate that our kids are able to go to school at Diller-Odell and offer the variety of activities that we do. Be thankful for all of the positive attributes that go with living in quality rural areas. If you don't feel fortunate, watch the news.

We all need to make the most of our time and continue to make our small part of the world a better place for everyone. If you are standing still, you are not improving.

I am looking forward to a terrific 2016-17. I think our students and our staff have great things ahead of us this year!

Go Griffins!
